

ISIE Future Faculty Workshop

The International Society for Industrial Ecology Student Chapter Board will be hosting a professional development session at 9am on May 16th. The session will provide an opportunity for current graduate students to hear from a panel of young faculty members about their experience transitioning from being a student to a becoming a professional faculty member. There will be time for students to ask panel members questions about their experiences and /or advice on student challenges. The event will be free to all students attending the ISSST conference.
